2024 PUBLIC HEALTH LAW SUMMIT

Taking Action on Maternal and Reproductive Health

SEPTEMBER
23 - 25

OMNI SHOREHAM HOTEL
WASHINGTON, D.C.

The Public Health Law Summit is organized by:

Taking Action on Maternal and Reproductive Health

In the pursuit of advancing public health through the power of law and policy, the Network for Public Health Law is proud to announce the upcoming event, Bridging Public Health Gaps: Summit for Action in Maternal and Reproductive Health, to be held from September 23-25 at the Omni Shoreham Hotel in Washington, D.C.

In the face of escalating challenges to maternal and reproductive health, especially among underserved communities, the necessity for decisive action has never been more critical. The Summit will bring together a diverse cohort of 120 stakeholders, including state and local public health officials, care service providers, community advocates, NGOs, and philanthropic organizations in addressing the barriers to maternal and reproductive health care.

The Summit will:

- Equip participants with practical legal and advocacy strategies and tools.
- Highlight law and policy innovations and best practices in maternal and reproductive health.
- Explore investments and policy resources for dismantling maternal and reproductive health disparities.

WHAT YOUR SPONSORSHIP MEANS

The success of the Summit hinges on meaningful participation of community and advocacy organizations, a segment currently underrepresented in the discourse on public health law and policy. Recognizing this gap, we are seeking sponsors to facilitate the engagement of key organizations. Your sponsorship will bridge this gap and ensure the representation of voices imperative to advancing public health efforts.
